The Road Ahead

Over the years, Bridgestone's operations have steadily expanded into the daily lives of customers and markets around the world.

Today, Bridgestone is the leading company in the tire and rubber industry, but we are aiming even higher.

Through an ever-increasing range of products and services, we will strive to continue "Serving Society with Superior Quality."

As we take up this commitment from those who came before us, and further refine the products and services we offer, we will endeavor to meet and exceed the expectations of each and every one of our customers.
